IDS VACANCY

Research Fellow – Impact Innovation & Learning (Ref: 502)

Full-time

£32,808 to £51,424 per annum, depending on experience

IDS is seeking to recruit a Fellow, with the aim of strengthening its capacity to develop and deliver cutting edge, mixed methods approaches to impact assessment that will improve development effectiveness. We seek to appoint someone with an established international reputation for high quality research, practice and publications in the area of impact evaluation and learning. We will consider candidates from any relevant disciplinary background and with any geographical focus. Depending on background, interests and orientation, the appointee will be placed in one of the institute's six research teams.

The post-holder will have a PhD or substantial practical experience and a scholarly publications record that demonstrates an equivalent academic standard. Applicants should have experience in fundraising and project design and management will be expected to provide leadership for an initiative to establish a centre of excellence in impact and learning within the institute. In depth knowledge of contemporary debates regarding impact and learning and the intellectual and historical roots of the main approaches to impact assessment within one or more areas of development are essential, as are quantitative and qualitative research methods, and a willingness to work across the quantitative – qualitative divide.

If you are a non-EU National then please refer to the UK Border Agency website, www.ukba.homeoffice.gov.uk for information regarding your eligibility to work in the UK.

Salary: £32,808 to £51,424 per annum, (depending on experience)

Closing date: 21 May at 12 midday UK time

Telephone interviews: 31 May

Main interviews at IDS: 12 June.

For further information and to download an application form please log on to www.ids.ac.uk Alternatively, to receive an electronic or hard copy please e-mail Human Resources, hr@ids.ac.uk IDS values diversity and is committed to equal opportunities.
