Former British diplomat and family in Italy, one hour from Rome looking for mature and experienced female for babysitter/nanny for one (possibly two) years to help with two children (seven and nine years). Would suit year-off student or recent grad or post-grad or someone wanting one to two years in Italy to pursue study or writing. Ideally fluent/good French speaker (Italian speaker considered). Five days part-time work taking children to/from school (includes Saturday) and occasional evening babysitting. Daytimes free (can recommend great free academic library to study in) and Italian/French institutes. Own apartment in large house in quiet village in the hills with wonderful views. Limited bus and train transport, so city night life difficult but would work occasionally with late train and taxi/car lift (but beautiful villages and towns nearby with gym, yoga, music and film club, etc). Subsistence payment £500-£900 per month (depending on experience/skills). Transport costs covered. Must be EU-citizen, be experienced and enjoy looking after children and provide good references. Contact: ruby.umbra@gmail.com

I will start my PhD studies at IDS in September 2016 and am currently searching for accommodation. I am looking for a double, ideally furnished room in a shared apartment, preferably with professionals, that has basic facilities like a washing machine and an equipped kitchen for up to the equivalent of $500 pcm. I would be really happy about any hints or rooms available in or around Brighton. Thank you very much and looking forward to meeting you in the autumn.
