IDS VACANCY

Research Fellowship: Nutrition, Poverty and Vulnerability (Ref: 453)

The Vulnerability and Poverty Reduction (VPR) Team is seeking to recruit one Fellow, focusing on nutrition and how this relates to poverty and vulnerability. Specific experience working on undernutrition issues in the developing world is essential and concern for related issues of food security would be welcome.

VPR team members share a concern to bring human beings to the centre of their analysis and their engagement with policy and practice. This involves understanding the experiences that men, women and children have of vulnerability, poverty and injustice. The approach not only values multi-disciplinary insights but sees these as necessary for a rounded understanding of the nature and dynamics of poverty and vulnerability.

The team places importance on both generating empirical evidence and innovative conceptual thinking in efforts both to better understand the dynamics of poverty and vulnerability in specific social and environmental contexts. Both are seen as necessary to better engage with policy and practice in an effort to be more effective in reducing poverty, improving human wellbeing and enhancing social justice. IDS expects research fellows to contribute to our teaching programme, including the MA in Poverty and Development and to our research and policy advisory work.

The successful candidate will be expected to have a doctoral level qualification in Economics, Public Health, Human Nutrition, Development Studies, Political Science or a related discipline (an outstanding research career and practical experience may be taken as equivalent to a doctoral qualification). The candidate should have an excellent research and publication record related to or relevant to nutrition, poverty and vulnerability. A proven capacity to work in a multi-disciplinary team, in policy environments, with overseas partners and practical experience in the field are also essential, and language abilities beyond English will be an advantage. Analysis of complex policy problems, experience of post-graduate teaching and presentation skills and experience of identifying and securing funding are all essential to the post.

Salary: £32,658 to £55,000, full time.

Closing date: Tuesday 19 July at 12 midday (UK time).

Telephone interviews: Wednesday 27 or Thursday 28 July.
