

Mr Salam Omer – is Editor-in-Chief at KirkukNow and also Chairman of the board of People's Development Organization, an organisation carrying out women and other development projects in Kurdistan, Iraq. Launched in 2011, KirkukNow is the only specialised media platform for citizens in Iraq's "Disputed Territories". Since 2017, KirkukNow has been covering developments in all the "disputed territories" (as defined by the Iraqi constitution) in the three main languages of the province – Arabic, Kurdish and Turkmen – as well as in English. Salam has over 15 years' experience in journalism, starting his career with Kurdsat TV. He has since worked with both local and foreign newspapers and also been Media trainer with the media organization of Independent Media Centre in Kurdistan. Salam gained an MBA-Leadership at the American University of Iraq and a BA in English Language and Literature at the University of Sulaimani. He has also undertaken training on Pedagogy for Adult and Civic Education at the University of Linköping in Sweden and on Peace and Dialogue at Nansen Center for Peace and Dialogue in Norway.
