

Impact Evaluation Design Short Course April 2015 Bursary Application Requirements

The International Initiative for Evaluation (3ie) are offering two bursaries and the Institute of Development Studies (IDS) are offering one, to applicants (national and resident) from Low Income Countries.

Please note we are unable to consider applicants from other countries.

The bursary will cover course fees, international flights and accommodation. This process is highly competitive and to qualify you must be a national of a Low Income Country and be living and working in the country.

In order to apply for a bursary you are required send the following information to iesc@ids.ac.uk

- Current nationality and residence
- A statement of not more than 200 words expressing your motivation for attending this course. In the statement please indicate how you will be able to apply in your work what you have learned from the course
- A short CV (no more than 3 pages)
- Name and details of 1 contactable referee

The bursaries are very competitive and all applications will be reviewed by 3ie and IDS once the application deadline has passed (Friday 28 November 2014).
